Advantage Industrial Automation is Schneider Electric's Solutions Level
2013 ACE Distributor of the Year

Duluth, GA - March 5, 2014 Just announced! Advantage Industrial Automation (AIA) is proud to announce that we are the recipient of the Schneider Electric 2013 ACE Distributor of the Year award for Solutions. Schneider Electric's Automation and Control Excellence Program recognizes the distributors whose automation and control business practices best exemplify Schneider Electric's key values and achieve remarkable performance in 2013. For potential and existing customers, ACE distributors set the standard by offering decades of experience working with leading-edge solutions. The ACE distributor program was developed to assist Schneider Electric's ACE distributors in understanding what training and tools are available to them, to help them plan the career development of their key automation and controls sales and technical resources, to provide a tracking mechanism by which distributors can verify that their staff is fully trained and possesses the knowledge and skills required to become a trusted advisor to their automation and control customers.
